Commander, Air Force Technical Applications Center

Col. Finlayson addressing the MOAACC Members

Col. Finlayson was presented an appreciation MOAACC Plaque and Coin by MOAACC 1st VP Colonel Richard Kniseley, USAF Ret (left), and President Lt Col Brian Whalen USAF Ret (right)

80 MOAACC members were present at Tides for February luncheon to hear from our own Patrick Base Commander.

Colonel James "Cobra" Finlayson is the new Commander, of Air Force Technical Applications Center, Patrick Space Force Base, Fla. AFTAC operates and maintains the United States Atomic Energy Detection System to monitor foreign compliance with various treaties limiting nuclear testing. The focus of AFTAC's more than 1,000 professionals is to detect special events in the atmosphere, underwater, underground, and in space to determine if they are nuclear and to report them to U.S. senior decision makers. Prior to assuming his current command, Colonel Finlayson was the Vice Commander of the 17th Training Wing at Goodfellow AFB, Texas. He received his commission in 1997 from the United States Air Force Academy.

PRESIDENT'S PERSPECTIVE

Brian Whalen, LtCol, USAF (Ret)

It has been busy. The 100th Issue of Five Things was published on 30 Jan – thank you Steve Bond! We had our February luncheon at the Tides and will be meeting at Indian River Colony Club for the rest of the year. The Valentine's Day On-the-Go Luncheon at Amici's restaurant was great– thank you Toni Lowe!

At a TMBC, Tom Unrath discussed “Step Therapy” also called “fail first” which is mentioned in the February MOAA magazine (page 30). This involves trying lower cost medications before going to more expensive medications. This sounds reasonable depending on how it is implemented. If you try to refill an effective medication and you are switched to a lower cost medication that is either ineffective or not as effective, that is a problem. This is a major issue when dealing with chronic issues where once you lose functionality, it cannot be regained. If you run into barriers getting your long-term medications re-prescribed, please e-mail legis@moaa.org and share your experience.

The Survivor Benefit Plan/Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (SBP/DIC) is gone and we can thank MOAA and The Military Coalition for this accomplishment. I mention this because the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) has listed options to reduce the deficit, and reducing the deficit is good. The negative aspect is some of their cost cutting measures include: TRICARE for Life (TFL) enrollment fees; minimum out of pocket TFL expenses; means testing for VA disability compensation; eliminate VA disability pay for veterans with low disability ratings; tax VA disability pay; and more. Just because the CBO has identified something, doesn't mean action will be taken, but we need to be aware of these recommendations and engage our representatives if any of these options get traction. We need to stay informed and not get complacent. Visit the Advocacy area of the MOAA website, read the FCOC Newsletter and read our updates. We need to pay attention when John McMahon and Tim Pishdad give us the legislative updates and be ready to act.

A lot of activities will be taking place this year and there will be many opportunities to participate. I hope you will take advantage of them; they are a great way to get to know more one another and to get involved in the community.

We support MOAA's aims by advocating for national and state legislative actions protecting the rights and interests of veterans, uniformed services retirees, active duty personnel, and their dependents and survivors.

Editor's Note

Thank you to the many that are taking the time to submit articles, photographs and news to be included in the monthly MOAACC INTERCOM. As your Editor, I bring my over 35 years of Newspaper Photojournalist experience and Military Public Affairs background to improve our INTERCOM, inspire and recognize our members leadership in our community.

This would require not only changing the LOOKS of the INTERCOM, it will also entail ensuring the best, interesting, short but informative content, short Articles with Quality photos, design and layouts. The placement of important reader information, reminders and event notifications will be placed on special pages that will be easy to read and locate.

Please note:

We have changed the deadline for submission of photos and articles from 20th of the month, to the 15th of each month.

This was necessary to give our staff more time for editing and Intercom printed on time.

Comments & suggestions are welcome.

Reality Check

Lately, this column has been focused on our Nation's financial situation and all the potential catastrophic outcomes that abound if or when the Congress and the President fail to reach agreements for moving forward. Unfortunately, to date, key Members of Congress and various Administration officials seem to be doing more posturing than paying serious attention to such bread-and-butter issues--specifically, a timely and realistic annual budget, the debt ceiling crisis, prudent defense spending, corporate and individual tax issues, inflation, interest on the federal debt, and the future of Social Security, Medicare and Veterans' earned benefits. This month, as the annual federal budget process kicks off (a month late based on when the Biden Administration plans to submit its FY 2024 Budget proposal), we look at what some are positing as ways to address these quandaries while protecting essential programs and investments. In doing so, I am reminded of the sage wisdom found in the adage: No pain, no gain.

On the negative side of the equation, a look at the Federal Debt picture depicted below paints a gloomy picture. We are spending way more than we take in as revenue and hence have been borrowing against our future and that of our posterity. The projections are hideous! Every year of deficit spending and every new program adds to the problem.

In his State of the Union address, President Biden said his FY2024 Budget proposal will erase $2 Trillion in deficits over the next 10 years without reducing SS or Medicare benefits or raising taxes on those making less than $400K per year. Of course, the devil is in the detail. President Biden and Speaker McCarthy have begun talks about reducing spending in exchange for raising the debt ceiling once again. The Republicans will also release their own FY2024 Budget Proposal sometime in mid-April. Talking and negotiating our way out of this situation before June is a must if the U.S. is to avoid default and another downgrade of its creditworthiness.

Meanwhile, there is the very real probability that the 2017 Trump Tax Cuts, which are due to expire in 2025, may be extended; estimates hold that such an extension would add about $3 Trillion to the Federal Debt over 10 years. This would worsen the debt problem at the same time Republicans are trying to address it—what gives? One interesting thing about these Tax cuts is that, even though they were touted as paying for themselves by way of economic growth (and additional tax revenue), and even though they were supposed to help the middle-class taxpayers like you and me, they did not; especially when one factors in the cap it included on state and local tax deductions! They mostly benefited corporations and wealthy households instead. By the way, the corporate Tax cuts were made permanent and the individual Tax cuts temporary, a “slight of hand” ploy to make it painful to any politician who allows the cuts to lapse. Public perceptions aside, conventional wisdom dictates that nobody in Congress or the Administration will let these Tax cuts lapse in 2025, adding to the Debt Problem.

So, what to do? Frankly, the Nation needs to spend within its means and get the growing debt under control—this will cause some pain, but it should not be attempted on the backs of those of us who have earned benefits by our service, blood, sweat and tears! First, be courageous enough to let the Tax cuts expire in 2025. Then, look at reversing the permanent corporate Tax cuts, at least to match what 136 Nations have agreed to as a Global Minimum Corporate Tax rate of 15%—this way, there is no tax avoidance benefit to multinational corporations by eliminating so-called tax havens. The obscene salaries, bonuses and retirement packages that corporate executives take seem to be more than enough proof that these companies can afford to pay more of their fair share of the burdens we all have. Whatever additional revenue is generated by increasing taxes should not be license to spend more or start new programs as some have suggested—e.g. free college tuition. And do not undercut the Internal Revenue Service by cutting the recent uptick in their budget to fight against Tax-cheats and others who abuse the system. Let's agree to a respectable federal budget ASAP that begins to curb spending--we need to restrain spending growth in every program except national defense! Furthermore, let's not forget that just as the House Republicans are now attempting to leverage the looming debt crisis as a means to getting spending under control, so too did the House Democrats leverage the last debt crisis in 2017 to boost domestic spending. There is plenty of precedent so let us just work it out—soon!

FINANCIAL LITERACY

CAPT Arnold Lim, USNR (Ret)

SECURE 2.0 Takeaways, Part 1

The Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement Act, or the SECURE Act, was passed by Congress in December 2019. At the end of 2022, President Biden signed a $1.7 trillion bill into law; this Secure Act 2.0 comes with a lot of retirement and tax-related provisions. In this month and next, we'll look at some of those changes:

* Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) age has changed for those who are not already at least 72 years old: For those born between 1951 and 1959, RMDs now begin at age 73, starting in 2023. For those born 1960 and later, RMDs now begin at 75, starting in 2033. Also, the penalty for not taking your RMD is now reduced from the current setting of 50% of the amount of your RMD that you neglected to withdraw to just 25%. Furthermore, the penalty may be as low as 10% if one corrects a RMD withdrawal error in a timely manner. These changes are for the better for all taxpayers.

* New exceptions were created to the 10% early withdrawal penalty before age 59 ½. These exemptions are for terminal illness, survivors of domestic abuse, and corrective distributions of excess contributions and earnings. In 2026, you will also be able to make penalty-free early withdrawals for long-term care premiums, up to $2,500 per year.

* Annual limits (previously static at $100k per year per individual) for Qualified Charitable Distributions (QCD) are now indexed to inflation.

* Allow excess 529 funds to be rolled over into a Roth IRA; a maximum of $35,000. If one has money sitting in a 529 plan (typically for a beneficiary to pay for college expenses) that is unused, to get the money out of the 529, you would have to pay taxes and penalties on the earnings because it is an after-tax contribution. SECURE Act 2.0 allows you to potentially move that money into a Roth IRA. However, the maximum allowable contribution limit via this method in a given year is $6,500, and one also has to have that amount of earned income. The funds to roll have to have been in the 529 plan for at least 15 years, and the last contribution needs to have been made at least 5 years prior. So, while this sounds overall like an excellent provision, with so many catches and caveats here, the percentage of 529 holders to actually make use of this is likely to be low.

Part 2 is presented next month.

POINTS TO PONDER

CH (MAJ) Bill Adams, USAR (Ret.)

America the Beautiful

Every week at TMBC we sing two songs. I wrote about "God Bless America" before, so now let us take a look at "America the Beautiful."

Did you catch Super Bowl LVII? R&B legend Babyface performed this American anthem for about 113 million viewers. Since the early 20th century, "America the Beautiful" has been popularized by such icons as Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, Elvis Presley, Ray Charles, Barbara Streisand, Mariah Carey, Whitney Houston, and Charlie Rich.

But where did it originate?

In the late 1800's, Massachusetts schoolteacher Katharine Lee Bates took a study tour to Colorado Springs. Crossing the fruited plain and ascending the purple mountain majesties of Pikes Peak, she was inspired to write a poem by that name. The poem was really a prayer for her beloved country.

About the same time, New Jersey church organist and choirmaster Samuel A. Ward rode the ferry from Coney Island to Manhattan. Inspired by the grandeur of the great, shimmering city, he composed the music for the hymn "O Mother Dear, Jerusalem."

Someone of genius combined Ward's melody and Bates's poetry, named it "America the Beautiful," and sang out what today is among the most popular of U.S. patriotic songs. By 1931 it was even considered a candidate for our national anthem.

You might know the first and last stanzas. As men and women of faith, and as defenders of our great nation, consider the middle two stanzas from the 1911 version:

"O beautiful for pilgrim feet, whose stern, impassioned stress, a thoroughfare for freedom beat across the wilderness. America! America! God mend thine every flaw, Confirm thy soul in self-control, thy liberty in law."

"O beautiful for heroes proved in liberating strife, who more than self their country loved, and mercy more than life. America! America! May God thy gold refine, till all success be nobleness, and every gain divine!"

And so, we pray together, "America, America, God shed His grace on thee. And crown thy good with brotherhood, from sea to shining sea." Amen.

SURVIVOR ASSISTANCE LESSONS LEARNED

Lt Col Chuck Shaw, USAF, (Ret)

A Surviving Spouse has a lot to address in the short term after losing their spouse. Having full access to the money in their bank accounts can be one of the most important things that needs to be assured beforehand!

However, occasionally banks will not give a Surviving Spouse access to an account that the Surviving Spouse was able to fully access before the passing of their Spouse. It can be a worrisome process to restore that access during already a very difficult time. To avoid getting into such a situation, it is important that before anyone passes away, the couples should meet with each of the financial institution(s) they use. That can assure they have things set up in line with the policies of the financial institution to assure the Surviving Spouse has complete access to the couple's financial accounts. If you use more than one financial institution (banks, credit unions, investment accounts, Trusts, etc.) their policies may be quite different from other institutions. So, you need to meet with ALL of the financial institutions.

If you use "points" you earn through credit cards, etc., be sure you have access to all those credit cards and points. Be sure you have at least one credit card in the Surviving Spouse's name as well as debit cards.

If you put a down payment on a vacation for the two of you, be sure you can get a refund if one of you passes away. The more preparations you can jointly make beforehand, the better!!

SCHOLARSHIP CORPORATION

Col D Brent Baysinger, USAF (Ret)

Building on Momentum in 2023

In 2023, we continue to see new faces doing new things within the Scholarship Corporation. We welcome Wayne Justice as the new President and Scott Hartley as the Chairman of the Selection Committee! In addition, I will be taking over the duties of Treasurer from Steve Turner and Roslyn Bates. I have big shoes to fill as Steve and Roslyn have been doing this for many years and I will never be able to replicate heartfelt letters of thanks to all donors, that Roz responds to. Please join me in thanking these two individuals for all they have done for our kids and the corporation over the years!

March, 2023 marks the third month of our annual six-month MOAACC Scholarship Corporation campaign for eligible candidates which culminates in the 40th Annual Scholarship Awards Luncheon this summer. In 2022, we awarded 10 scholarships of $5,000 for the third consecutive year. This July we endeavor to repeat this while honoring the awardees with some well-deserved pomp and circumstance.

According to U.S. News & World Report, for the 2022-2023 school year, the average annual cost of college varied from $10,423 for in-state tuition; $22,953 for out-of-state tuition; and $39,723 for a private college. Meanwhile, 2022 cost of living as measured by Consumer Price Index (CPI) increased 6.5%. A MOAACC scholarship will go a long way helping awardees pay for burgeoning cost of college academics and extracurricular pursuits. For 2023, the Scholarship Corporation has further expanded eligible candidates by making prospective sophomores through PhD students eligible to receive the scholarship.

Lastly, now is a great time to review or establish your planned giving for 2023. Please consider a donation to the Scholarship Corporation! We are a 501(c)(3) non-profit and your donations are tax-deductible. (Make sure you consult, as applicable, your accountant, attorney and financial advisor to make your contribution as tax-efficient as possible.) With continued donor support from the MOAACC community, we will continue to meet our goals:

- To assist worthy students who are descendants or wards of members of the U.S. uniformed services;
- To achieve the established annual scholarship objective through donations and endowment income;
- To recognize donors for their contributions to the Fund

Please consider supporting the MOAACC Scholarship Corporation in 2023!

MOAACC Supports NOTU 1QFY23 Sailors of the Quarter

By LCDR Dan Levy, USN (former)

On Wednesday, January 11th, MOAACC participated in the Naval Ordnance Test Unit (NOTU) Mission Partners Social and Quarterly Awards Ceremony held at the Greenhouse at Cape Canaveral Space Force Station. MOAACC members in attendance included Lt Col Joseph Tichich, USAF, LCDR Dean Schaaf, USN, and LCDR Dan Levy, USN. MOAACC presented certificates of recognition and $50 awards each to the 1QFY23 Junior and Senior sailors of the Quarter: LSS2(SS) Bakari Khalfani and MT1(SS) Christian Briggs. The event was hosted by NOTU Commanding Officer, CAPT Jason Schneider, USN, who highlighted the accomplishments of the two awardees while recognizing the community support by MOAACC and all of the Mission Partners. MOAACC's Good Deeds Foundation issued the cash awards. The next event will be Wednesday, April 12th, 2023 at 3pm. If you are interested in attending, please contact Dan Levy.

$3,000 Donated by Dot & Lam Hardman Family Foundation to Benefit the JROTC Program

MOAACC Motivational Speaker, Lieutenant Commander Amir Pishdad Jr, US Navy SEAL (Ret) (left), proudly presents a $3,000.00 check on behalf of the "Dot & Lam Hardman Family Foundation" to benefit the JROTC Medal Program. Receiving this donation are Speaker's Bureau Chairman Col Steve Bond, US Army (Ret) (center) and MOAACC President LtCol Brian Whalen, USAF (Ret) (right).

Amir and Lam established a friendship during Amir's "Leadership and Teamwork" Keynote presentation at a 2021 Wealth Management convention that was held in Cancun Mexico. Since then, the Hardman Family Foundation has been a significant contributor to the success of the JROTC Medal Program that honors the Top JROTC Students.

The MOAACC Speakers Bureau typically reaches out within the local community to deliver motivational and inspirational talks about particular military service and MOAACC Programs that are promoting camaraderie and leadership.

JROTC team celebrates coming out on top of Nine Schools and 17 teams.

February continued to be a very active month for your Good Deeds Foundation Board. At the 14 Feb GDF meeting the Board approved 10 Grants totaling over $7900 for a wide range of programs and veteran related needs. These stories will unfold with photos during March for publication in April when MOAACC /GDF will be hosting MOAA National medal winners at our Luncheon on 18 April for 15 JROTC High Schools and special awards for honor cadets from five other county programs we support.

Many of our efforts focused in early 2023 around supporting JRPOTC programs including at three drill meets with trophies and other help at the Veterans Memorial Center Park. Left photo – one victorious team celebrates coming out on top of Nine Schools and 17 teams.

We hope MOAACC Members will consider donating to the GDF all year round and are very happy to report after earning a record $28,300 net from our 2022 December Golf Tournament, several other great donations came in during January and February and we are on track for our FY 2023 budget year which ends 30 Sep 2023.

Atomic Veteran Award Recipient, Major George Bowdren

Maj George B. Bowdren (ret) US Army, and a long-time resident of IRCC in Viera, FL. is a life member of Military Officers of America and the local chapter MOAACC.

George served in the 6th U.S. Constabulary Regiment during WWII and served for 26 years on active-duty military service to our Country.

George was recently awarded the newly authorized Atomic Veterans Commemorative Service Medal and Certificate. This award recognizes veterans, who during their military duties directly participated in the detonation of an atomic device, were exposed to radiation from either an atomic accident or detonation, or were exposed to radiation from the use of atomic weapons.

George was awarded this medal for his service while he attended Atomic Devices Training in 1953 in Nevada where Operation Upshot-Knothole Grable was detonated with a yield of 15 kilotons on 25 May.

Prior to the scheduled detonation George's unit underwent detailed orientation and were informed of the various buildings used to test materials. One of the items being tested were uniforms. Interestingly, small piglets, whose skin is closest to humans were being tested with the uniforms. Due to the rapid growth in pigs, the test could not be delayed otherwise the pig uniforms would require to be remade. To test the eyes, rabbits were used as their eyes are similar to humans. Rabbits were staked out and faced toward the blast site. Their noses were tied in place so they faced forward. However, the rabbits fall asleep when their nose is held down. So, each rabbit was fitted with its own alarm clock set to ring at the same time as the blast!

A 280 mm cannon fired the atomic artillery projectile. George and his unit were told that trenches would be available for them. Their instructions were to kneel down in the trench, put their heads down, and cover their eyes. George also had a towel over his head to keep the loose dirt out. However, he still could see the bright light from the blast even through his closed and covered eyes. He stood, leaned against the front of the trench and could see the blast wave coming across the desert floor. When the blast reached the trench, he was slammed from front to the back. Despite the training and protection, he was reported to have been exposed to 0.40 cSv of gamma radiation.

George was very excited to receive this Atomic Veteran award and the recognition for this unique part of his military service. He had heard about this new award from another veteran and applied to be considered for the award on 02 January 2023.

There are probably many other retired veterans or their descendants who are also eligible for this recognition but do not know about it. For more information, anyone interested should contact: <https://www.dtra.mil/About/Mission/Nuclear-Test-Personnel-Review/Atomic-Veterans-Commemorative-Service-Medal-Information/>

Marine Corps Veteran Gets Immediate GDF Help

GDF Board Member Dean Schaaf (l) presents the check to MCL Des 513 Commander Dennis Herring (center) and his Vice at the VMC on 23 Jan.

In late January, Detachment 513 of the Marine Corps League of Brevard Country contacted the Good Deeds Foundation with a unique and urgent request. One of their members was facing major heart surgery at the VA and did not have the funds to fly his spouse and daughter from overseas to be with him during and after the procedure. GDF provided the Marine $1000 toward the air tickets and the MCL came up with the remainder. Since time was crucial, the GDF action was accomplished via email vote in 16 hours and the veteran Marine had the funds within 3 days.

MOAACC and GDF Supports 45 SLD Quarterly Awards Program

On 27 January, several MOAACC and GDF members set up an information table and showed our support to the active-duty forces of the US Space Force when 45 SLD held their quarterly awards program at the PFSB Sharkatorium.

The China Marines After WWII

By Bill Muckler, Captain USMC

The China Marines were assigned to guard the Yokosuka Japanese Navy Base near Tokyo following the surrender of Japan. They performed this duty from 2 September 1945 through 14 February 1946 until the 6th Marine Division (MARDIV) was deactivated, dissolving the regiments under its operational command.

The 4th Marines, were reactivated at Camp Pendleton in 1951, carrying the lineage of both old and new 4th Regiments, and assigned to the 3rd MARDIV. It returned to Japan in 1952, remaining until the Korean Armistice Agreement was signed on 27 July 1953.

The 4th Marines were sent to Korea on 23 August 1953 to defend South Korea in the event hostilities resumed and returned to Japan on 27 July 1954. Although they saw no combat, the 4th Marines are entitled to fly the Korean Service streamer from their regimental colors.

When the 3rd Marine Division relocated to Okinawa in 1955, the 4th Marines were assigned to the 1st Marine Brigade at the Kaneohe Bay Marine Corps Air Station. They remained there until deployment to Vietnam in 1965 as part of the 3rd MARDIV.

The 4th Marines landed near Chu Lai and served in the I-Corps region of South Vietnam under the III Marine Amphibious Force, first at Da Nang, then in 1966 at Phu Bai. In 1967 the regiment moved to Dong Ha, where they participated in operations throughout Quang Tri Province.

Major operations for the regiment were Operation Starlite, Hastings, and Prairie. In 1967 and 1968, Operations Prairie IV, Hickory, and Kentucky. The 4th Marines also provided security for the construction of the McNamara Line.

The two major enemy units they battled were the 324B and 320th NVA Divisions. They left South Vietnam in November 1969 with 10 Marines and 1 Hospital Corpsman receiving the Medal of Honor.

In 1972 the 4th Marines were sent to Okinawa to serve as part of the 3rd Marine Division. Except for operational deployments, the 4th Marines have served in Okinawa to the present.

During the Gulf War (1990 to 1991), the 2nd Battalion, 4th Marines was attached to the 8th Marines as part of the 2nd MARDIV. In March 1991, it participated in the Liberation of Kuwait as part of Operation Desert Storm.

VETERANS MEMORIAL CENTER UPDATE

Dean Schaaf and Donn Weaver

The Legacy of Four WWII Chaplains Lives on in Brevard County

On Sunday, February 5th, it rained hard most of the day along the Space Coast which kept attendance down, but several veteran organizations still held a unique ceremony of remembrance, including at the Veterans Memorial Center (indoors) on Merritt Island.

Eighty Years ago, on February 3/4, 1943, the USAT Dorchester troop transport vessel pressed into service during World War II was sunk by torpedoes from a German UBoat about 120 miles southwest of Greenland. Hundreds of American soldiers on their way to England and Navy crewmen perished in the explosions or in the icy waters as the vessel sank. Thanks to US Coast Guard Cutters and many acts of heroism many were also saved. It is often described as the second worst maritime disaster for the United States in WWII.

On that night several eyewitnesses reported on an amazing sight — four US Army Chaplains from three different Protestant and the Jewish faith were seen locking arms and praying together as the bow of the ship slipped under the Atlantic Ocean surface. Before that they had given up their cold weather gear and life jackets to army soldiers and helped organize as many lifeboats as they could. Witnesses later confirmed they indeed saved many lives as they sacrificed their own.

After the war, the story spread and it was decided to always honor and remember these “Four Immortal Chaplains” through ceremonies around the country every early February. Completely funded by donations a Chapel and Museum was built in Philadelphia over the years which is now a foundation. Details about this amazing story now 80 years removed from the incident can be found on the website: fourimmortalchaplains.org. In 2001 the Chapel was moved to the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard.

In 2018 the Veterans Memorial Center created a monument with donations of more than $22,000 to honor the Immortal Four and All Chaplains. Like an older memorial in Sebastian, FL, that monument was endorsed by the Four Immortal Chaplains Foundation and tells the story with some information about the chaplains.

Ruled ineligible for the Medal of Honor due to rules about direct combat, the Four Immortal Chaplains received many awards including the Purple Heart. Decades later Congress approved creating a special Gold Medal of equal weight to the Medal of Honor to the families of the Four.

At the 2023 VMC Ceremony, Marine Corps League Detachment 513 of Brevard conducted the ceremony and reenactment of survivors returning the life jackets to the four chaplains. MCL Det 513 is led by Dennis Herring, pictured below in the red jacket on the far right.

A number of MOAACC Members attended and/or were part of the Ceremony including Dan and Mary McIntyre, Dean and Susan Schaaf, Skip Taylor, Brian and Elizabeth Whalen, Paul Julian and Donn Weaver.
